

28 FEBRUARY 2018

Contextual Safeguarding in practice: Schools and education

On 28 February 2018 (10.00-16.30), the Contextual Safeguarding Network will be holding a free learning event on Contextual Safeguarding in schools.

The event launches the network's free toolkit for responding to harmful sexual behaviour in schools and fourth learning project. The event will provide an opportunity for colleagues to hear from leading experts, including policy updates, tools for schools and partners, research evidence and practice examples. There will also be opportunity for discussion and sharing learning.

The event is taking place in Oldham and is free to attend. Registration is open to members of the Contextual Safeguarding Network as well key partners in the education sector.

To join the Contextual Safeguarding Network and to find out more about the event visit the website via this link: <https://contextualsafeguarding.org.uk/>.

THE INTERNATIONAL CENTRE
RESEARCHING CHILD SEXUAL EXPLOITATION,
VIOLENCE AND TRAFFICKING

PRESENTATIONS WILL INCLUDE:

Contextual Safeguarding in schools: Changes to 'Keeping Safe in Education'

—

Launch of toolkit: Preventing harmful sexual behaviours in schools – tools for self-audit and inspection

—

Responding to peer-on-peer abuse: new resource for schools

—

Developing contextual practice in schools: Working with marginalised groups

—

Developing and delivering SRE in Oldham schools

—

Conducting a Contextual Assessment and Intervention Plan: learning from the Hackney pilot

REGISTRATION:

Places will be booked on a first come, first served basis. Please note 30 places have been reserved for colleagues from Oldham.

Register via this link:

<https://contextualsafeguardingschoolsevent.eventbrite.co.uk>